GETTING ALONG DIGITALLY STUDENTS HELPING STUDENTS NAVIGATE THE INTERNET SAFELY

For years, students have been inundated with information on cyber-bullying and the perils that lurk on the internet. In speaking with students, school officials found the “bullying” message wasn’t hitting home anymore, and something new needed to be brought to the students. With that in mind, “Getting Along Digitally” was created. The program is a peer led program where Grade 12 students from Holy Names Catholic high school created a presentation to be delivered by them to elementary students. We invite you to attend one of these presentations and learn more about this very innovative and unique project.
